Await Final Concord To Enter Egypt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 9 (P)—The first units of the U.N.'s emergency police force will fly to a staging area in Italy tomorrow on their way to the Middle East battle area.

This was disclosed today by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and Italian officials as plans went ahead without waiting for Egypt's final agreement to admit the international force.

The U.N. commander Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns of Canada was in Cairo apparently still trying to work out arrangements with the Egyptian authorities. Despite the delay in getting clearance for the landing, U.N. officials professed not to be worried.

Hammarskjöld, after an intense round of private talks, announced that "arrangements are near completion for the dispatch of the first units" to the Italian staging area. He did not say whether this was but Italian officials in Rome reported it would be at Capodichino Airport, near Naples.

Advance Parties Ready

Hammarskjöld said advance parties of Norwegian and Danish forces, armed and equipped, would be flown to the Italian base "probably within 24 hours." Italian officials said the troops were expected tomorrow afternoon. Their information was that the stop would be just long enough for refueling and then the troops would fly on to the Middle East.

Dispatches from Copenhagen reported the Danish group would consist of two companies of 163 men each. The initial Norwegian unit was reported at 50 men.

The Danish and Norwegian units will be airlifted in U.S. transport planes. Other advance units from Canada, Colombia, Finland, India and Sweden also will proceed shortly to the Italian staging area, some of them within the next 48 hours, Hammarskjöld said.

UN Brands Russia Act Intolerable

Indictment Is Part Of Resolution Which Is Passed By Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 9 (P)—The General Assembly tonight formally branded Russia's actions in Hungary as an "intolerable attempt" to enslave the Hungarian people and a violation of the U.N. Charter.

The indictment was part of a five-power resolution which expressed deep concern over Russia's refusal to comply with a Nov. 4 U.N. order for the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary.

The resolution described the Soviet action as "violent repression" of the Hungarian people. It said the "foreign intervention in Hungary is an intolerable attempt to deny the Hungarian people... freedom and independence."

The sponsors of the resolution were Cuba, Ireland, Italy, Pakistan and Peru.

The 76-nation Assembly voted on it paragraph by paragraph, approving each by overwhelming majorities.

Approved By 48-11

The resolution as a whole was approved by a vote of 48-11 with 16 abstentions.

It came at the end of a heated day-long debate in which a bloc of neutralist Asian nations fought against the inclusion of language criticizing the Soviet actions in Hungary.

Hitting back, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said the U.N. Charter distinguishes between right and wrong.

"The U.N. never was intended to be a mere sordid cockpit in which the values of the criminal and the values of the law-abiding were indiscriminately scrambled up... There cannot be a double standard of international morality in the world."

The five-power resolution called on Russia to withdraw her troops from Hungary "without further delay." It also called for free elections in Hungary.

Voting against the proposal were Albania, Bulgaria, White Russia, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, India, Poland, Romania, Soviet Ukraine, Soviet Union, and Yugoslavia.

Countries Abstain

The following countries abstained: Afghanistan, Austria, Burma, Cambodia, Ceylon, Egypt, Finland, Haiti, Indonesia, Jordan, Lebanon, Libya, Nepal, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen.

Delegate after delegate poured fire and scorn on the Russians today. Soviet actions in the stricken nation were characterized as "bestiality... massacre... sickening spectacle."

At one point, during a particularly sharp attack, Russia's permanent delegate, Arkady A. Sobolev, rose and left the chamber. The other Russian representatives, however, sat listening with stony indifference, or busied themselves with documents on the desk.

"The Soviet Union has already paid an immense price for this bullying of a defenseless people," Lodge said. "We must not let the memory of this outrage die."

New Summit Talks Unlikely

BERN, Switzerland, Nov. 9 (P)—The French government told Switzerland today a new summit conference would be difficult to organize in the present "instability" of the world situation.

The Swiss government on Nov. 6 proposed an immediate meeting in Switzerland of the heads of governments of Britain, France, Russia, the United States and India, to avert the danger of a third world war.

Britain replied yesterday that it was consulting with France and the United States on the Swiss proposal. The French reply today reiterated that consultations were in progress, but added that, "At a time when the international situation is in a constant state of instability, it is very difficult to determine the conditions and circumstances under which such a conference could be held."

India has given full approval to the proposal, but no official reply has been received thus far from Russia of the United States.

Lull In Hungary Fighting Noted

Uranium Mines At Pecs Dynamited

VIENNA, Nov. 9 (P)—Budapest radio reported a lull tonight in the fighting in the Hungarian capital, but rebels were said to have blown up the nation's uranium mines in south Hungary.

Hungarian refugees told Vienna newspapers the great uranium mines near Pecs were so thoroughly dynamited it will be a long time before the Russians can reopen them.

The mines were a major objective when Soviet military forces launched general attacks Sunday to crush the anti-Russian revolt. The rebels had demanded Hungary cease handing over uranium to the Soviet Union.

Sullen, striking workers and rebel guerrillas apparently still defied Russian might. Hunger and lack of medical treatment added to their misery.

Workers Still Strike

Railwaymen and other workers still were striking in protest against Soviet interference in the two-week-old Hungarian rebellion against the Kremlin.

Late today, Budapest radio said that "generally there is no shooting any more" and that "complete order" had been restored in the 14th District on Budapest's eastern outskirts. Rebel radios remained silent for the second day.

In the almost complete blackout imposed on the stricken nation 18 days after its Oct. 23 revolution started, it was difficult to assess the real situation. But it was obvious from Budapest broadcasts that the Russians had not succeeded in snuffing out the rebellious spirit of the Hungarians.

Miklos Somogyi, leader of the construction workers union, in a broadcast late today called for an end to "bloodshed, looting and destroying." He said he had heard with "horror" that bands were setting fire to storehouse, state shops and warehouses. He appealed to "all comrades" to resume work.

Collect All Arms

A police order that janitors and house guards collect all arms, ammunition and explosives and turn them over to police was broadcast repeatedly.

The government announced local phone and telegraph service would be resumed in Budapest tomorrow.

The Agricultural Ministry ordered state farms to start supplying Budapest immediately. It urged in the absence of railway traffic, that potatoes, meat, milk and vegetables be brought in by trucks or wagons.

14-Month-Old Boy Is Killed By Washing Machine

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9 (P)—A 14-month-old boy climbed into his mother's automatic washing machine today while she was in a bedroom sorting out more dirty clothes and was killed by the agitator action.

The victim was Peter Vasso, only child of George and Miriam Vasso.

Mrs. Vasso, 24, loaded the washer in the kitchen of her third-floor North Philadelphia apartment and then stepped into an adjoining bedroom.

When she heard a loud, thumping noise she rushed back and found Peter in the machine. Her screams brought Mr. and Mrs. Robert Summers running from their second-floor apartment.

Summers lifted the child out but he was pronounced dead on arrival at Women's Medical College Hospital of head and internal injuries.

Navy Balloon Hits 76,000 Feet With Two Occupants

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 9 (P)—Two Navy officers said today their record-breaking research balloon flight was "about 65 per cent successful" despite an unscheduled fast drop from the stratosphere brought on by a faulty gas valve.

Comdr. Malcolm Ross and Morton L. Lewis, Washington, D.C., likened their hurried descent to a long "elevator ride," but said at no time did they consider their situation critical.

"I can't say we were scared, but of course we were a little concerned," laughed Lewis, 37, who with his companion attained a height yesterday of 76,000 feet, man's highest ascent in a balloon.

The two, poised and smiling most of the time, recounted the flight at a news conference at the Naval air station here.

Among other things, they disclosed that:

A malfunctioning automatic valve on the balloon released a burst of helium shortly after they reached maximum altitude, causing the balloon to drop at the

Air Force Units Leave Suez Canal

Situation Remains Tense In Mideast; Arab Raids Noted

LONDON, Nov. 9 (P)—Britain began pulling back her Middle East forces today, convinced that the sooner a United Nations police force is on the job the better.

But the world was still in the dark whether Egypt and the Communist bloc would agree to British, French and Israeli plans to hold fast to their present positions until the international force is ready to take over.

All was reported quiet in the Suez Canal battle zone on the third day of the cease-fire.

President Nasser made a two-hour radio speech in Cairo without mentioning Egypt's position on the police force.

Soviet Plans Obscure

Russia's attitude remained obscure. Israeli military sources showed serious concern over reports that Soviet MIG17 fighter pilots and some "volunteer" technicians had arrived in Syria. Moscow dispatches commenting on similar information given out by French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau the day before, apparently were being held up by Soviet censorship.

For the second consecutive night the Israeli army reported a series of Arab commando raids. Six Israelis were wounded in six different raids from the Syrian and Jordan borders.

U.S. congressional leaders left a 2½ hour conference with President Eisenhower in Washington reporting the situation was "serious" and "grave." But some said they believed a peaceful solution would be worked out eventually. The weight of administration opinion in Washington was reported to be that Russia probably would not intervene.

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, working with a seven-nation committee to put together a police force from 17 volunteer nations, indicated the first units might reach the war theater soon. A token team of about 80 men may be sent first, to be followed by a force of 2,500 to 5,000.

Air Force Withdraws

Prime Minister Eden told the House of Commons Britain was withdrawing immediately some Royal Air Force units from her powerful Middle East forces, and that some of the commando and parachute units which carried out the assault on Port Said were being replaced by occupation infantry.

Even as he spoke, the first assault unit returned from the canal zone to its Cyprus base. A loaded troopship, bound for the Middle East from Southampton, also canceled its sailing. Eden said, however, that RAF ground organizations would remain intact in the Middle East.

Eden said Britain would hand over her responsibilities in the area as soon as the U.N. force "is in a position effectively to discharge its task."

He thus apparently reserved the right to determine when the U.N. buildup had reached the effective stage.

Denies Arabs Reneged

In his speech at Al Azhar Mosque in Cairo, President Nasser denied his Arab allies had reneged on their mutual defense obligations to Egypt, or that the Egyptian air force had been destroyed by French and British bombings.

Russia and the United States "were with us" during those attacks, he said, adding that he

U.S. Planes To Transport UN Troops

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (P)—The Defense Department said tonight an Air Force plane would leave tonight to pick up the first contingent of Colombian troops for the United Nations truce force in Egypt.

A statement by the department said:

"The secretary of defense announced that at the request of United Nations Secretary General Hammarskjöld, the United States Air Force will provide transportation for the movement of Norwegian, Danish and Colombian troops to Naples, Italy."

"An Air Force Constellation is scheduled to depart tonight from Charleston, S. C., for Bogota to transport the initial complement of Colombian troops. Forces from other countries will be transported in planes dispatched by Headquarters, United States Air Forces Europe, to meet that requirement."

It was indicated that the first complement of Colombian troops would total about 50 men.

The Air Force in Europe has a number of transport planes for the airlift to Naples, which will be the assembly point from which the U. N. personnel would be carried to Egypt by U. S. Navy ships and planes.

The Constellation which was scheduled to leave Charleston tonight is operated by the Military Air Transport Service.

The Pentagon appeared to be uncertain about a definite schedule for moving additional Colombian troops from Bogota to Naples, but there were indications that a plane might leave each day until Colombia's full contingent had been airlifted to Naples.

Ike Boasts Lead To 9,320,837

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (P)—President Eisenhower today boasted his plurality over Adlai Stevenson of 9,320,837 out of a total unofficial vote of 60,134,999 in Tuesday's election.

With 3,663 of the nation's 154,874 precincts still uncounted, the vote stood at 1 p.m. EST.: Eisenhower 34,727,918; Stevenson 25,407,081.

The President's vote well exceeded the previous high recorded by a presidential candidate, 33,927,441 received by Eisenhower in winning his first term four years ago. Stevenson polled 27,314,992 in 1952.

The incomplete total vote count was nudging the record of 61,551,918, also set in 1952. Only 17 states had completed their unofficial tabulation; and the official results will have to be awaited to determine if a new record had been established.

Ike Considers Mutual Pact For United States, Israel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (P)—The United States was reported considering a mutual security pact for Israel today as a means of further smothering down the battle-torn Middle East.

Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress came away from a 2½-hour White House conference with President Eisenhower voicing optimism and faith in his handling of the tense situation.

Seek Contact With Legation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (P)—A State Department spokesman said today the U. S. government is trying to re-establish contact with its legation at Budapest, out of contact since Sunday morning.

Department press officer Lincoln White declined comment when asked if the department was "talking to the Russians" about the loss of contact with American officials in Hungary, where the Soviet army has crushed an anti-Soviet, anti-Communist revolt.

Asked whether any diplomatic steps were being taken by the United States on the matter, White told newsmen:

"You can be sure that efforts are being made to have these communications restored."

There was no official word about whether the United States might be considering recognition of the new puppet regime in Hungary. But officials made clear privately that no such consideration was likely until it was certain that the regime in power would stay there. This would depend upon whether the Kremlin were satisfied with the way it was behaving, they said.

"A very frightful movie," said Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

U.S. officials said they expect Israel to renew its longstanding request for a mutual security pact with the United States. Such a treaty would make the Israelis eligible for U.S. military aid without cost and would guarantee U.S. military support should Israel suffer aggression.

These officials said the whole matter was under consideration.

WEST GRANBY, Conn. Nov. 9 (P)—All is well with the pig at the bottom of Milton Wyman's well, but how is the 250-pound animal going to get out?

However much Wyman may be worrying about that, the pig apparently isn't.

Contentedly he's rooting, oinking and eating. He gets his ladder via a ladder.

Since the growing porker took a walk in the dark Wednesday night and broke through the rotten boards that covered the opening of the shallow dry well, Wyman figures he has toted 20 pounds of grain down a ladder to the imprisoned hog.

Wyman has engaged a contractor with a crane and a hoist yesterday to try to pull the pig from his prison.

Quarles Says UN Stronger In This Crisis

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (P)—Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles said today the United Nations foundations for a better world order have been strengthened during the crisis in Europe and the Middle East.

And, he said, he believes the U. S. alliance with Britain and France "will be left essentially intact."

Quarles said this country neither associated itself with nor condoned what he termed the Israeli "violation of the armistice with Egypt" or "the British and French intervention in this situation."

But Americans should recognize, he said in an address prepared for the United League Club, that the problems of the Middle East are of "vital interest to our two major free world allies (Britain and France) and that there have been in the past provocations which seemed to them to justify their intervention."

Quarles said that on its part the United States has pursued an "honorable course" in what he called the "essential conflict between our national security interest" as based upon the Atlantic Alliance, and "our determination to preserve the United Nations principles of world law and order."

Quarles rejected any thought of the United States "retiring into a shell" or adopting "the fortress America concept."

Pope To Speak

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 9 (P)—Pope Pius XII will send "a message to the world" via Vatican radio tomorrow, the Vatican announced tonight.

The subject of the message was not announced.

Senate's New 'Baby Member' Is Idaho's Frank Church, 32, Former Boy Orator

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (P)—The Senate's new "baby member" will be 32-year old Frank Church, Idaho Young Democratic leader and former boy orator.

And the age totals of Church and eight other newly elected senators are 103 years less than the nine men they replace.

Even so, a check today showed that the average senator's age when the new 85th Congress meets Jan. 3 will be 57 years 8 months, or slightly above the average of the 84th session two years ago.

That's because the holdovers, and re-elected senators, pull up the average.

There have been remarks in recent years that the Senate is becoming "an old men's club."

Statistics kept by the Library of Congress seem to bear this out. They show that over the past 10 years, the average senator's age has ranged from above 57 to as high as 58½ years at the start of the last five sessions.

In the first Senate sessions, back in the 1789-95 period, senators averaged 44 to 47 years, with many lawmakers just above the 30-year minimum that still applies.

In the next session the range will be from Church's 32 to 89 for Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), who was 69 when first elected to that body and now is the oldest member of Congress.

Church takes the "baby senator" title from Sen. Russell Long (D-La.), who was elected a few days before he reached 30. Long was the youngest senator for eight years.

Only two other present senators are 40 or younger. Sens. John Kennedy (D-Mass), 39, who came close to winning his party's vice presidential nomination, and Charles Potter (R-Mich.), legless World War II combat veteran, who is 40.

All of the newly elected senators are younger than the lawmakers they replace except Gov. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio), 61, who defeated Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio), who is 60. Lausche is the oldest Senate freshman.

Church defeated Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho), 50, who was the youngest among the nine senators defeated or retired this election.

Only 19 senators due to sit in the next session will be 50 or less but the groups include both party leaders, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) and William F. Knowland (R-Calif.), who are 48.

In the new session will be 16 senators who are 65, age of retirement for many persons, or older.

Many of them head major Senate committees; they get these choice posts through seniority.

Two other octogenarians in addition to Green are Sens. Matthew M. Neely (D-WVa.), 82, who has served three nonconsecutive terms, and James E. Murray (D-Mont.), 80, chairman of the Interior Committee.

Among senators re-elected this week for new six-year terms are Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.), 79, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, and Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.), 72, former chairman and ranking Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee.

Navy Seamaster Crashes In Del.

DOVER, Del., Nov. 9 (AP)—The Navy's lone Seamaster, giant sea-based jet plane still in the experimental stage, crashed in flames today in northern Delaware. Its civilian crew of four parachuted to safety.

The Seamaster, known as the XP6M, broke up while cruising in a test flight from the Glenn L. Martin Co. plant in Baltimore, where it was built.

It was the second of the big planes to crash within a year, and so far as can be determined, the only one extant.

Navy officials in Washington said the crash of the flying boat was seen by personnel on another plane that had gone along on today's routine test flight.

The four crewmen, all Martin employees, were found safe about two miles from the crash scene. A company spokesman identified them as: Pilot Robert S. Turner, Copilot William Cunningham, and two flight test engineers, Thomas Kemey and William Compton.

The plane fell on the farm of Hyland Bullen, between Odessa and Mt. Pleasant and about 25 miles north of Dover, the state capital. The spot is not far from the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal that runs into Delaware Bay.

The Navy said the Seamaster was flying at 22,000 to 25,000 feet when it went into the crash.

The craft had taken off from the Martin plant at Middle River, Md., at 2:44 p.m., EST, and crashed at 3:36 p.m.

Mrs. Lillie Morgan of the nearby town of Bear, said she saw a broad streak of flame that broke into two separate flashes before it disappeared. She added "the flash of light moved so fast I thought it was a meteor."

Cause of today's crackup had not been determined. The Navy and the Martin company both planned investigations.

The first Seamaster crashed last Dec. 7 after breaking apart over Chesapeake Bay at the mouth of the Potomac River.

On Aug. 31, the Navy awarded a $102,163,427 contract to the Martin Co. for the production of 24 Seamasters.

The cost of an individual Seamaster is about 6 1/2 million dollars.

The cause of the crash last December was described by the Navy as due to malfunction of a tail control.

It said the difficulty of this control forced the swift-flying jet into a partial outside loop, causing its disintegration.

Air Force

contacted President Eisenhower and had been assured the President was "opposed to aggression."

Nasser said he had discouraged offers of help from Saudi Arabia, Syria and Jordan because he did not want to spread the war.

As for the Egyptian air force, he declared, "we put dummy planes on the airfields and in this way were able to save our air force."

The French Defense Ministry today claimed 200 Egyptian planes destroyed and 70 damaged during the French-British air offensive that began Oct. 31.

A French Foreign Office spokesman said, however, that some planes of the Egyptian air force had taken refuge at Jidda in Saudi Arabia. He suggested that some of the Soviet MIGs reported from Syria might also have fled from Egypt to escape destruction.

Britain and France still faced the task of easing the strains on their friendship with the United States that have developed in the Middle East crisis. Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet have been urged by government and parliamentary advisors to make a quick trip to Washington to see President Eisenhower. The White House, however, said there were no plans for such a conference "at the moment."

Gaza Strip's Occupation Is Still In Doubt

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, Nov. 9 (AP)—Is Israel going to pull out of the Gaza Strip or hang on to it?

Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion announced last night that Israel will withdraw its troops from Egyptian territory occupied during the Sinai campaign, but did not specify whether he meant that to include the Gaza Strip, which adjoins the Sinai Peninsula.

Israeli citizens, in the absence of precise official elaboration, are sure the announcement does not mean giving up the Gaza Strip. Israelis do not regard it as territory belonging to Egypt.

Will Withdraw Troops
Here is what Ben-Gurion said about withdrawing troops: "In view of the United Nations resolution regarding the withdrawal of foreign troops from Egypt and the creation of an international emergency force, we will, upon the conclusion of satisfactory arrangements in connection with this international force entering the Suez Canal area, willingly withdraw our forces."

One Israeli official source put the situation at Gaza this way: "The Sinai Peninsula is Egyptian territory we conquered. The Gaza Strip is Palestine territory which we liberated."

The same source cautioned that the Gaza Strip situation is still in a "fluid state"—indicating it might be a subject of bargaining.

There are signs of intent to stay in the strip, including establishment and operation of a military government for the area, substitution of Israeli currency for Egyptian there, and the fact the Israelis are taking over the police and functions of civil administration.

Search For Soldiers
Israeli troops were searching today for Egyptian soldiers believed to be still hiding in the strip.

The Israeli military governor said the hideouts may number as many as 6,000. He indicated they may be concealing themselves among coastal sand dunes and in other uninhabited regions of the strip. The strip was ceded to Egyptian administration under the 1949 armistice and Israelis regarded that as only a temporary solution pending a peace treaty.

Authorized circles told reporters here that careful reading of Ben-Gurion's final statement in his broadcast last night makes clear that continued Israeli occupation of Gaza is one of Israel's objectives. Ben-Gurion in this passage indicated that "liberation" of Israeli territory "occupied" by Egypt—in other words the Gaza Strip—was a major aim of the Sinai operation and that he was confident this would be fully achieved even though neither he nor anyone else knew what the fate of the Sinai desert would be.

Democrats Have Edge In House In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 9 (AP)—Democrats will have an edge of 58-42 when the House of Delegates convenes next January, barring any changes when general election results are certified officially.

Final unofficial tabulations showed three Democrats and eight Republicans in the Kanawha County delegation, instead of a 9-2 split, and the county canvass could change it. W. E. Chilton III of Charleston was the final 11th place winner with 51,610 votes, against 51,576 for Republican Leonard Barnett of London.

Republicans' gain of 18 seats in the House was a considerably stronger inroad than they were able to make in the Senate, where only two additional seats were picked up for a new alignment of 21-11 favoring the Democrats.

Teen-Age Trio Fakes Shooting

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Three teen-agers, one a 16-year-old married girl, who pulled a fake shooting prank where the "victim" was dragged to a waiting car which sped away, were nabbed by police today.

It cost each $50 and costs for disorderly conduct. They also were given suspended 30-day jail terms. Last night about 10:30 p.m. a resident said he was watching television when he heard what sounded like three pistol shots.

He rushed to the door and saw a form on the ground across the street. A figure was standing nearby. A car drove up, two men got out and dragged the form into the car and sped off.

The witness managed to get the license number and telephoned police.

Officers traced the car to the residence of Francis Dixon, 19 The other two with him were Ronald Warden, 18, and Mrs. Judy K. Rollins, 16.

The three told police they were riding around after a movie when they thought it would be fun to stage the fake shooting, with Mrs. Rollins the victim and Dixon as the gunman.

"We didn't think anyone would see it," they said.

Three Permits, But None His

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—John P. Mugg of Washington was sentenced to 15 days in jail yesterday for driving with three operator permits—from Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. Trouble was, police said, that none was his.

Await Final

nounced that negotiations are under way with Swissair for DC6 aircraft to assist in flying the troops from the Italian staging area to the Middle East, 5,000 To 6,000 Troops

U.N. officials said the initial size of the force probably would be 5,000 to 6,000 and would be limited to troops from the Scandinavian countries, Finland, India, Colombia and Canada. Ten other countries have offered to contribute troops but they may not be needed, U.N. officials said.

The troops would wear their own national uniforms, but would wear a special arm band with the words "Emergency United Nations Force."

Except for the troop arrangements, there was little activity here. The General Assembly will meet in emergency session tomorrow on the Middle East problem, but it is expected to take no action except to establish the question for top priority consideration in the regular fall meeting of the Assembly opening Monday.

Council Studies Shortage Of State Teachers

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Legislative Council committee studying the teachers' shortage today reported that the state must have more teachers, and they should get paid more for teaching.

However, the committee failed to offer specific recommendations as to how to get the additional instructors and the additional money to pay them.

Instead, it suggested courses of action which might be taken "based on knowledge rather than rumor and emotion."

The committee, headed by Sen. Northrop (D-Montgomery), said it could not suggest ways of financing because "the committee does not have an official estimate of the State's fiscal position."

"To recommend a course of action without knowledge of the financial resources which will be available to implement it, would be an irresponsible action, which this committee is unwilling to take."

The report said that Maryland must supply about 3,000 new teachers each year—1,000 to staff additional classrooms and 2,000 to replace those who leave.

It termed a "fallacy" the assertion that higher salaries would cause a considerable reduction in the number of teachers who quit. It said most of those leaving do so for compelling personal reasons.

It added, though, that the salaries should be increased to retain a competitive position.

Nov. 25 Named Help Hungary Day

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 9 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today proclaimed Sunday, Nov. 25, as "Help Free Hungary Day" in Maryland.

"I respectfully request that recognition of Hungary's brave struggle be given through prayers and sermons in our churches and synagogues on that weekend," the governor said.

"I urge too, that the citizens of Maryland contribute financially, in accord with their ability, to aid for the Hungarian patriots through the International Rescue Committee, New York City."

DEATHS AND FUNERAL NOTICES

Funeral Set Monday For Crash Victim

WILLIAM J. LaManna

A requiem mass for William Joseph LaManna, 35, of 135 East Main Street, Frostburg, who was fatally injured Thursday evening when his car crashed head-on into a truck on U. S. Route 40 about five miles west of Frostburg, will be celebrated on Monday at 9:30 a. m. in St. Michael's Catholic Church with interment in the parish cemetery.

He was an employee of the National Brewing Company of Baltimore. Mr. LaManna was a member of St. Michael's Church, the Holy Name Society, Frostburg Council 1442, Knights of Columbus, "Chief Justice" Toney General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, Faraday Post 24-American Legion, Frostburg, John R. Fairgrieve Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Maplehurst Country Club and the Men of LaSalle.

He also was a veteran of World War II. The body is at the Durs Funeral Home, Frostburg.

MRS. REGINA V. NORRIS

Mrs. Regina Virginia (Conrad) Norris, 49, of 305 South Street, wife of Floyd Norris, died yesterday in Memorial Hospital following an illness of a week.

J. N. Willison Jr. To Wed Dorothy Elaine Baker

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Elaine Baker to James Nelson Willison Jr. will be solemnized at 8:30 tonight in the parsonage of Centre Street Methodist Church, Washington Street, with Rev. Howard M. Amoss, D. D., officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard B. Baker, Williams Street. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nelson Willison, 733 Hill Top Drive.

Miss Virginia Shipway will be the bride's maid of honor and only attendant, while Richard Puffenberger serves as Mr. Willison's best man.

The bride will wear a champagne-colored lace gown, fashioned on princess lines with full ballerina-length skirt, and fitted brown velvet bolero jacket. With it she will wear matching brown accessories. A corsage of white rosebuds will complete her costume.

Her attendant will be attired in a beige-colored ballerina-length dress, made similar to the bride's. She also will have brown accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Baker has chosen a navy blue dress and hat for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Willison selected a black dress with white trim and winter white velvet hat for the ceremony.

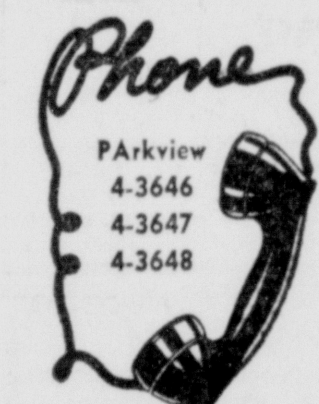

A graduate of Flintstone High School class of 1956, the bride is employed by the A and P Super Market. The bridegroom is a graduate of Flintstone High School, class of 1953, and is employed in the meter department of the Potomac Edison Company.

For their motor trip to eastern cities, the bride will wear a powder blue suit with black accessories and her corsage. Upon their return Mr. Willison and his bride will reside at 227 Fayette Street.

LaVale Homemakers will hold Achievement Day Monday with an old-time fair and white elephant sale, at the fire hall.

Antique Show To Be Held Today

Privately owned antiques will be exhibited today from 1 until 5 o'clock in four Frostburg homes, sponsored by the Antiques Group of the Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Kitchen utensils, home "appliance" and "receptacles" dating from 1838 will be among articles displayed at the home of Mrs. J. Carter Shryock, 816 S. J. Street. Other articles will be displayed at the homes of Mrs. J. Edgar Shryock, 816 S. J. Street; Mrs. Ruth B. Engle, 1111 S. J. Street; and Mrs. Helen Yale Hough and Dr. Laura B. Harney.

At the home of Miss Mabel Myers, 45 South Water Street, old china and glass will be on display. Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Walter T. Kline, Mrs. Adam Baer, Mrs. Herbert E. Loar, Miss Agnes T. Howatt and Miss Kathleen Wolfe.

Mrs. H. Reford Aldridge, 38 West College Avenue, is showing miscellaneous antiques. She is being assisted by Mrs. Esther M. Kachline, Mrs. John B. Ives and Mrs. Raymond M. Sauder.

Quilts and coverlets will be shown at the home of Mrs. Perry Myers, 150 East Main Street, where tea is to be served. Miss Gertrude Williams, president of the branch, and Dr. Harney will pour. Assistant hostesses are Mrs. G. Kear Hosken, Miss T. Imogene Caudell, Miss Virginia Neff, Miss Roseann Langan and Miss Gertrude Williams.

Among the exhibits are a toy black iron stove, complete with side hearth, hot water tanks, drop leaf, fancy side shelf and coal bucket; a toy black iron pot-bellied heating stove; many old dolls, wedding finery; a perfectly preserved fur muff and collarette dating from before the Civil War; and part of the trousseau of Mrs. Charles Walker, who grew up on the Porter farm in Eckhart; an embroidered silk shawl; an original Hepplewhite hall table; a round ball found in a garden on South Water Street, thought to have been fired during the French and Indian War; a Chipendale tilt top table.

Brass and crystal candlesticks from about 1840, in the possession of a Frostburg descendant of the Bell family of Montgomery County; a sample set of pink, gold and white china, and white and gold tray carried by a salesman around 1900; a ballot box used in the Presidential election of 1864 by Company B, 28th Penn. Volunteers, while prisoners of war in Atlanta, Ga. Lt. Charles Walker, former postmaster in Frostburg, was one of the men who voted that November 8.

A child's sampler quilt made 80 years ago by Miss Maria Cruze of New Hope Road and a large patchwork quilt pieced and embroidered in red by Miss Aggie T. Davis, a former school teacher of many older Frostburgers; an unusual waffle iron used 100 years ago and a collection of Revolutionary War firearms.

Division 117, B Of LE Plans Philanthropic Work

Three donations were voted at the meeting of the Mrs. C. L. Bretz Division 117, Grand International Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Wednesday at the Virginia Avenue Odd Fellows hall. Mrs. Olivia Shambaugh presided.

A donation of $5 was given to the Muscular Dystrophy Association; it was decided to purchase a $5 Christmas seal bond; and voted to purchase a wheel chair to be presented to the county infirmary as a Christmas gift.

Ritual work of the Cassell drill and drawing of the charter in memory of Mrs. Ida Mae Freeland, who died October 4, were explicated.

Potomac circuit day was observed with Martinsburg division represented by Mrs. Marie Harper. Three guests from Division 70, Connellsville, attended. They were Mrs. Frieda Jordan, Mrs. Cora Robinson and Mrs. Mary Roby. Mrs. Ada Miller received the circuit prize.

Others present were Mrs. Carrie Hosier, Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Geraldine Larrick, Mrs. Edith Null, Mrs. Eleanor Adams, Mrs. Violet Robertson and Mrs. Naomi Weaver.

GOP Women To Form Study Group

Plans for a study group, including the Frostburg club, were announced by Mrs. Lucile Roeder, Educational chairman, at the meeting of the Women's Republican Club Thursday at the Y. Mrs. James Orr presided. It was decided to have a turkey dinner at the meeting December 13 at 6:30 p. m., instead of the usual Christmas party. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Karl Bachman, PA 2-5509 or Mrs. Ernest Treat, PA 2-2674. Mrs. Myrtle Hurley was welcomed as a member.

An acknowledgment from President Eisenhower for the birthday wire was read and reports were given by Miss Wella Cook, Mrs. Eunice Niland, Miss Bessie Baird and Mrs. Orr. Mrs. William Strickler gave a reading. Prayer was offered by Mrs. R. J. Reuschlein and Mrs. Carl Goetz sang the National Anthem.

A program was presented by the Homemakers Chorus, with Mrs. Paul Gilford leading, Mrs.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TODAY

It happens in offices, in factories, in barracks . . . on ships and trains and airplanes . . . in the quiet of churches, in the thunder of battle; we pause in the turmoil of time to read the Word of Eternity.

And the pages we read bring us close to those at home, or to those away from home.

For the Bible brings us to God, in Whom there are no distances, with Whom love encompasses all.

One of the great Christian enterprises of our time is the American Bible Society. Through the support of Christian churches and individuals it seeks to bring these divine pages before the eyes of men, women and children the world over.

Like the churches of our community it calls men to the Truth on which unity and freedom are founded.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Intelligence Not Static

An educated thorn has been thrust into the side of present standards for measuring intelligence quotients of Americans by a noted pedagogue, Dr. Nancy Bayley, head of the Child Development Section of the National Institute of Mental Health, Washington, D. C. Dr. Bayley opposes the popularly accepted theory that a human's natural intelligence reaches a peak at 21 years of age and declines thereafter.

Instead, says Dr. Bayley, "Repeated tests on the same persons as they grow older have yielded scores that do not follow this pattern but indicate that at least some intellectual abilities may continue to increase slowly to 50 or older." The educator bases her theory on what she considers an inadequate system of measuring intelligence abilities.

Present testing standards have been in force for many decades with little change and this, according to the Bayley theory, is where the fallacy lies. The Washington administrator feels educational opportunities have increased and been taken advantage of so greatly during the past quarter century that the middle and older age groups of today are fast closing the wide educational gap which once existed between the younger and older age groups.

Accordingly, Dr. Bayley says, "in considering age changes in older people we may need to evaluate their scores according to norms standardized at appropriate calendar years rather than for age only." That is, a similar test should be used throughout an individual's life rather than increasingly difficult ones in keeping with more "progressed" education.

Dr. Bayley may find a great deal of support for her theory. The adults of the nation will be pleased, of course, but there have been other grumblings among educators about the inequities of present testing methods. One other major complaint has been that not sufficient allowance is made for environment conditions. Whatever testing methods are used, there is bound to be dissatisfaction over a classification of citizens according to intelligence abilities.

The People Speak

The volume of votes cast in the 1956 election, more than 51,000,000 out of a total population of 168,000,000, clearly indicates that the people not only spoke but wished to speak. No one in the United States is required to vote; it is a wholly voluntary process. Eisenhower received more than a majority of the popular vote; the electoral vote does not present the same proportions as the popular vote. In the electoral vote, state by state, winner takes all.

Eisenhower's popularity held up despite the use that was made by the opposition of his ill-health. If anything, this particular argument hurt Stevenson, as Eisenhower appeared hale and often on the television screen to millions of Americans and sometimes he looked less tired than his younger challenger.

As most humans have, at one time or another, been sick of a more or less serious nature, the reiteration that Ike had had a thrombosis and an ileitis evoked not only sympathy but a pride in his energetic comeback.

Another argument that fouled the opposition was "part-time President." It sounded far-fetched. In this 40-hour-a-week country, who is not working part-time? And the assumption is that if the business of the nation gets done to the satisfaction of the people, it only goes to show that Eisenhower knows how to organize his office. The golf ball and the masnie may yet become the symbol of the era. Walter Reuther who advocates a 30-hour week surely cannot object to a President who gets his work done without a stop watch. At any rate, the people so voted.

Another argument that ran foul is that Americans can be led by the nose on a class-conscious basis. Eisenhower carried all the distinctively farm states except six in the South and it was Eisenhower and his secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, who proposed and pursued a farm policy which the Democrats said was ruining the farmer and returning him to the Democratic fold. Except as it affected some members of Congress, and that could also be over other matters, the farmers, by and large, helped to increase the Eisenhower vote.

Similarly, Eisenhower could not have carried such industrial states as Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Connecticut and Ohio if the political efforts of the AFL-CIO counted for much. The evidence is that the American worker while belonging to a union votes for candidates for public office as he chooses. He does not regard the political judgment of his leaders as better than his own.

Also it does not appear in any figures that there was any show of racial or nationality antagonism to the President or that, in this election, such matters counted.

Stevenson undoubtedly frightened some who might have voted for him by his pursuit of the argument that the H-bomb should not be tested. It sounded unrealistic. It gave the impression of careless judgment particularly after the Russian invasion of Hungary and the brutal proposal to the United States that the two atomic nations, the United States and Soviet Russia, join to take the British and the French out of the Suez enterprise. It seemed to many that whereas Stevenson may have had a valid argument about radioactive strontium, this country had to go on testing as long as Soviet Russia rejected every proposal to limit or even abolish the use of atomic and hydrogen bombs by international control and inspection. At any rate, Stevenson's approach to this problem lost for him the confidence of many voters who feared that he accepted immature advice too willingly.

The same applied to his argument concerning the extremely unpopular draft, which most parents fear and hate. But the feeling was also strong that this was not the time to bring up such a subject, not when there was shooting in the Middle East and in Hungary and when Iceland was throwing us out and who can tell what will happen next? It was the wrong campaign in which to take up an issue which, under some circumstances, might have been popular.

Undoubtedly, there will be weeks of discussion about this campaign, but this much looks certain: the Democrats need a new type of leadership if they are to win in 1960.

Red Reaction To Crises One Of Semi-Paralysis

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

Both Washington and Moscow have reacted to the great crises which have confronted them with a sort of amazed semi-paralysis. In Washington's case, this is not surprising. In Moscow's, it is.

Indeed, what has really puzzled and surprised and fascinated the experts is the curious, shifting, on-again-off-again reaction of the Kremlin to the direct challenge to its power in Poland and Hungary. In the past, Kremlin's practice has been to adopt a hard "line," and then to follow it with automaton-like ruthlessness. Yet in both Poland and Hungary the Kremlin has vacillated between a policy of using the full power of the Red army to crush all opposition, and a policy of bluster, appeasement, and retreat.

Highly Significant

When Krushchev led his mission to Warsaw, he threatened at first to use the Red army. But when Gomulka stood up to him, he blustered, appeased, and retreated. In Hungary, Soviet policy has similarly wavered between giving the rebels what they wanted, and drowning them in a bloodbath. The Kremlin may now at last have settled for the bloodbath. Yet the long period of indecision and vacillation is accounted highly significant among the experts. For it tells a lot about certain hard, inescapable facts of Soviet life.

There is not the slightest doubt that both the ferocity and the effectiveness of the Polish and especially the Hungarian resistance genuinely amazed the Russian rulers. In this absolutely unexpected situation, the "committee system" in the Kremlin, which had worked well enough before, began to display the indecision and internal division which are characteristic of committee systems. The experts, while they lack solid evidence, have no doubt at all that a fierce internal conflict has developed within the Kremlin's "collective leadership."

But the meaning of the Kremlin's semi-paralysis goes deeper than that. It is directly related to the two continuing internal crises which have been going on in the Soviet Union since the war. One is an agricultural crisis. The other is a manpower crisis.

Quickly Understood

The nature of the agricultural crises can be quickly understood in terms of the following simple fact: 54 million people on the Soviet collectives produce only 70 per cent of the agricultural output of the eight million people on American farms. And this 70 per cent must feed almost 30 per cent more people.

The vast over-investment in manpower on the collectives in turn contributes to the manpower crises. For under the Soviet system, there simply are not enough people to man the collectives and the Red army, and at the same time to maintain the continual expansion of Soviet industry which is the central object of Soviet internal policy.

The manpower crises, moreover, is now about to enter an acute phase. For the "shadow classes," the generation born in

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

PARIS—What is the smallest night club you have ever visited? For me it is Suzy Solder's cabaret here on the Rue Balzac. This place is about the size of a living room. I have never seen such clever utilization of so small an area. It has a bar, a dance floor and a stage. It is furnished and decorated in an extremely artistic way. The intimacy of the establishment is such that those present have a feeling they are at a private party. It is, in fact, almost that. Suzy, one of the great cabaret artists of Europe greets all comers warmly. Later on she sits for a period at each table to chat with her guests. She is the main attraction but the night we were in attendance there were several other extremely clever acts presented. We have been Solidor enthusiasts for some time and have a collection of her records. By request, Suzy sang several of our favorites. Practically all the people present were French. Our evening at Chez Solidor was a touch of the real Paris.

DOGS
The tender regard Parisians have for dogs is extremely interesting. You could slap your wife or your female companion in the face while strolling down the boulevard and nobody would pay any attention to you. However, if you slapped your dog several passerby would stop and offer strong objections. They would want to know what the dog had done to deserve such punishment. Or, if while walking your dog on a leash, you pulled him along faster than he wanted to go some passerby would surely request you to be more kind to the dog. To let him enjoy his walk.

When the average Parisian is asked for his telephone number he gives out three numbers, those of his residence, his office and his favorite cafe. . . Some of the French cigars are not so bad. They are not so cheap either. Cost about 25 cents. That is, however, less than half the price of a Havana. . . Evening dress is compulsory on Friday nights at the Florence night club in the Montmartre section.

A Delicate Subject But New Remedies Are Fine

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Worms may be old fashioned and out of date but it is surprising how many Americans harbor these intestinal parasites. They are shun but these parasites are too dumb to recognize the snub.

The last patient I had with a large tapeworm was a multi-millionaire. She had picked up the parasite in her travels through Spain, as other tourists have done. The subject is rather delicate because most of us associate worms with uncleanness but it is newsworthy because physicians now have new remedies worth crowing about.

Pinworm infestation is the most prevalent; estimates give up to 45 per cent of school children in some communities. The incidence of roundworm, tape-worm, and hookworm is less because they are not as easy to get.

The ascaris is a large roundworm that lives in the lower intestine without causing too much trouble. Its life cycle is somewhat complex; the female lays eggs that escape to the outside via the rectum. Some find their way to the soil where they remain alive and are ingested in contaminated food, water, or dust.

The ova hatch into larvae after reaching the intestine, penetrate the wall of the intestine, migrate to the nearest blood vessel, and are carried to the lungs. They then find their way into the air sacs and are coughed up, only to be swallowed again to reach their home in the colon.

The next stage is adulthood; they set up housekeeping and start the cycle all over again. The wandering larvae produce generalized abdominal discomfort initially, followed by respiratory symptoms indistinguishable from pneumonia.

The hookworm is a round-worm also, with a somewhat similar life cycle except that the eggs reach the blood vessels through the soles of the feet, instead of being swallowed. The barefoot boy is the most likely victim. The chance of acquiring these worms depends upon climatic conditions such as rainfall, temperature, and humidity, as well as the sanitary practices of the inhabitants.

Nixon Promises Support To Ike In Rebuilding Republican Party

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The day before elections President Eisenhower had a friendly talk with his understudy, Vice President Nixon, in which he sketched some of his hopes and ambitions for the future. White House friends say the talk was most significant.

The President knew then that, despite some of the earlier fears of his associates, he was certain to be re-elected. So he outlined to Nixon his plans to rebuild the Republican party in his own image. Part of what he told Nixon he later told the television audience when he made his brief election speech and outlined his plans for modern Republicanism.

Nixon, of course, has belonged to the opposite wing of the GOP. When in the Senate he voted against practically all the Roosevelt-Truman measures which Eisenhower has largely embraced. Nixon's voting record shows that he opposed reciprocal trade, whereas Eisenhower has staunchly supported it. Nixon opposed foreign aid, whereas Eisenhower has pushed it personally. Nixon also voted to reduce school lunches, crop insurance, social security and the scope of minimum wages. Ike's program has been just the opposite.

One reason why the conservative wing of the GOP demanded Nixon on the ticket was because of his vigorous record of opposing so-called New Deal measures.

In this pre-election talk with Eisenhower, however, White House friends say that Nixon pledged his support to Ike's dreams for a modern Republican party. White House advisers also say that the "new Nixon" who followed the "high road" during the campaign, will continue to be the "new Nixon."

NOTE—A leopard, it's said, cannot change its spots. It will be interesting to see whether a politician can.

Ike Losing 4 Cabinet Chiefs

It looks as if President Eisenhower would have four vacancies to fill in his new cabinet. He will fill some of them with great regret.

The four who want to retire to private life are John Foster Dulles, secretary of state; George Humphrey, secretary of the treasury; Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense; and Marion Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Of these, the man Eisenhower will miss most is Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. On economic matters he has been the dominant voice in the cabinet. His views, far more than those of Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, have prevailed. Eisenhower has also leaned on Humphrey regarding most major policy, including defense. One of his frequent statements, when asked about an important decision, is: "Let's see what George thinks of that."

However, Humphrey, who originally planned to stay only two years, has now stayed four. He feels the time has come to return to private business, and although he won't retire immediately, he hopes to do so some time in 1957.

Secretary Folsom, who has greatly improved Mrs. Hobby's administration of health, education, and welfare, is in much the same boat. He wants to go back to private life, and the President will have a hard time changing his mind.

Charlie Wilson, whose tongue has wagged the administration on so many hot spots, also wants to get out. Ike has developed a genuine affection for the warm-hearted but sometimes bumbling secretary of defense. He will be

The Post-Mortem

By Brother Barnabas

November 6 was judgment day in America. Every citizen eligible to vote, regardless of age, sex, color, social or economic condition, was privileged to have his say in the kind of government we all must live under.

How much he thinks of this privilege and how he uses it automatically grades the quality of his citizenship, regardless of his party affiliation.

If he doesn't exercise it at all he downgrades himself, except in instances where his inherent right to vote is curtailed by "Grandfather Clauses" written in state constitutions.

Our forefathers shed blood, sweat and tears to obtain the freedom which is our heritage—such as our Hungarian friends are suffering untold agonies to obtain from their Soviet despots.

Should Be Grateful
We have our liberties handed to us sugar-coated on a silver platter, but we often eschew them by our indifference and supineness. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

On his way to the polls one can by a little stretch of the imagination fancy himself a Pilgrim Father going to church with his Bible in one hand and his musket in the other, the one for devotion and the other for defense and conversion of the Indians.

The little two-by-four voting booth shrines a dynamo whose power unleashed by the simple swinging of a lever is capable of lifting the gates of empire off their hinges, with repercussions reaching to generations unborn, if any have escaped annihilation by that time. Don't carry a lighted candle in a powder factory.

Now, having swallowed this capsule of political science, let's ask the cracker barrel politicians what happened in the recent election—and how!

Was it really an election, or a ground swell upheaving the grass roots; or perhaps a "Mamie" cyclone sweeping the country?

There was a suspicion that each born-triplet voted three times, and that zombies came from their graves wrapped in shrouds.

The judge of elections allowed Diogenes Teufelsdröckh to vote because the filing clerk couldn't spell his name, and he was "Professor of Things in General" and should be allowed to vote anyway, because of his dignity.

Always A Factor

The stay-at-homers are a factor in any election. An applicant for citizenship in New York answer-missed personally, but not professionally.

Weinberg Helps Pick 'Em

Secretary Dulles is in a category of his own. He passed up the offer of an appointment to the Supreme Court this fall, preferring his work in the State Department. However, regardless of his illness, which is serious, White House advisers have had misgivings about his continuation as secretary of state. They feel that the breach between our old allies, France and Britain, over Suez reached a point where a new man should pilot the foreign policy of the United States.

Possible successors to Dulles include Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to the United Nations who rates high with Ike; ex-Gov. Tom Dewey, one of Ike's closest political advisers; and John J. McCloy, former assistant secretary of war, high commissioner to Germany, and now head of the Chase Bank.

NOTE—Sidney Weinberg, the presidential adviser who has helped pick new cabinet members for Ike and put more military men in key business jobs, has already been working on cabinet replacements. It was Weinberg who picked Humphrey for the Treasury and Wilson for the Defense Department. He operates through his close friend, Gen. Lucius Clay, whom he made head of Continental Can. Clay formed a fast friendship with the President when they served in the Army together.

Herbert Hoover Improves

U. S. diplomats credit Herbert Hoover Jr. with doing a better job than expected as acting secretary of state now that John Foster Dulles is ill.

Young Hoover is not renowned for his knowledge of foreign affairs. He is frank, charming, naive. He is even frank enough to admit that he doesn't know too much about foreign affairs, and once, when riots were blazing on the Greek-British island of Cyprus, he made the naive confession that he would "have to read up on Cyprus."

The fact that Hoover is unsure of himself, has steadied American foreign policy and done something for it that John Foster Dulles seldom did. It has revived regular staff conferences.

ed all the questions put to him, such as "Who is President? Where is the Capitol? What is the Congress, and what, if anything, do they do?"

He gave satisfactory answers to all, then came the stumper: "Could you be President of the United States?" "No," was the reply. "And why not?" persisted the officer.

"You please excuse," begged the man, "I verra busy right now sella de peanuts."

Who won the election? We know who won the "Cease fire," but the main issues will await future developments.

The crepehangers will epitaph the losers:

Man's life's a vapor, and full of woes,

He cuts a caper, and down he goes."

But the pendulum will swing the other way. The future belongs to the servants of mankind, rather than the predators. What is not good for all is not good for any. What is good for the goose is also good for the gander.

"Go tell Aunt Rhoda
Her old gray goose is dead;
One she'd been saving
To make her featherbed."

It's better to suffer defeat in a good cause than to win in a bad one. The office seeker who has no higher ambition than to feather his nest deserves to have his goose cooked.

Oratory Proved Its Futility

Margaret Fuller, one of the most important feminists of her time, threw up her hands and exclaimed "I accept the universe!" To which gruff Thomas Carlyle responded, "Ye gods, she's better!"

We can't run our mills with water that is over the dam. And campaign oratory has proved its futility.

But there is time and opportunity to attend to another matter of post-mortem concern to "Maryland, My Maryland."

The Department of Post-Mortem Examiners report that of the 24,344 deaths occurring in 1955, 17,94 per cent were sudden or violent. And that 528 deaths were highway casualties. It might be a good idea for the Department of Health to give other statistics on our psychopaths who are dead from the shoulders up and don't know it. Then we might find ways to remedy both conditions, says BROTHER BARNABAS

The Warren County High School Wildcats of Front Royal, Va., completed their first undefeated and untied season in the history of the school as they defeated the Fort Hill High School Sentinels 20-14 at the stadium last night.

It was the ninth straight this year for the Virginians as big Gene Kendall, 205 pound fullback, pounded over from the ten late in the initial period to open the scoring. The Wildcats' second tally came on the first play of the second half when Dewayne Fletcher took the kickoff and raced all the way 88 yards to make it 13-0. Fletcher added both points.

The Red and White tied it up in the final quarter when George Stimmel bucked over from the five. The Sentinels knotted the score several minutes later when Dalton Hillegas, right halfback, slipped in the end zone from the six. Both of Doug Metz's try for the point split the uprights.

Pass Scores Winning TD
The winning six pointer came with just about a minute remaining in the game. Quarterback, Don Henry, hit Fletcher with an aerial for four yards and a score. Fletcher's try was wide.

A gamble that lost for the Sentinels on the visitors' 44 set up the first score for the Warren County. The locals had moved from their 21 before George Stimmel was stopped short of a first. The Wildcats marched 56 yards aided by a 21-yard jaunt by Fletcher to the Red and White 15. Henry kept for six and Kendall went in on the next play for the tally.

After Fletcher's kickoff return for the second score the Sentinels were bottled up for the most part of the quarter. Late in the third period the Sentinels got their ground game going after taking a punt on their 31. The locals racked up four first downs in the drive which included a pass from Bill Powell to Hillegas for 10 yards.

Hillegas made 10 more down to the Wildcats' 10 and Stimmel five more to set up the score. Stimmel took a handoff, was hit at the three but managed to slip into the end zone.

Fort Hill Ties Score
The Sentinels' tying score came after Fletcher, who was back to pass on fourth down on his 14 was hit and dropped for a seven yard loss. Hillegas carried three straight times for seven yards and the score. Metz tied it up with his second point.

The Wildcats bounced back with less than three remaining minutes with Don "Cowboy" Henry tossing a long pass, to Fletcher that carried for 46 yards to the Sentinels' 14. Four plays later Henry hit Fletcher again on a jump, as from the 10 to break the deadlock and give the Front Royal team their clean slate for the year.

It was the first year as head coach for "Eck" Miers, formerly of Keyser, and brother of William "Huck" Miers, Piedmont High's basketball coach. It was the first time the Virginians had beaten the locals in four outings: Lineups:

Spain Reconsiders Withdrawal From Olympic Games

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said today that Spain has "reconsidered" its withdrawal from the Olympic games.

He expressed hope that other nations who quit the games also would reconsider their action. In addition to Spain, Switzerland, The Netherlands, Iraq, Red China and Egypt withdrew from the Melbourne competition to start Nov. 22.

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 9 (AP)—Westminster's Owls pushed over the touchdowns in the first and final periods here tonight to defeat Allegany High's Campers of Cumberland, 14-6, before a crowd of about 2,000 at the local stadium. Jimmy Head, quarterback of the Owls, smacked over for both tallies.

Coach Herb Ruby's charges struck quickly in the first period and then bottled up Allegany's attack throughout most of the game to garner the triumph.

Tie Fumbles Kickoff
The Cumberlanders' Fred Tice fumbled the opening kickoff on the Campers' one and Ronnie Bruce was forced to kick out from behind his own goal line.

The punt traveled to the Allegany 33 where Ed Shilling caught it and returned to the 26.

Jeff Smelser then smashed through tackle for 12 yards and Head picked up nine more to the five. Head then raced around left end on the option play for the score. He passed to Pete Widener for the extra point to give the Owls a quick 7-0 lead.

After battling back and forth through most of the first two periods Allegany converted a fumble into its only scoring opportunity. Jesse Ketterman pounced on a miscue by Shilling on the Westminster 14. Doug Walker smashed through for 12 and Ronnie Lease plunged over for the six-pointer. Dave Conley's attempt for placement for the tying point was wide to the right and the Owls held the 7-6 lead at intermission.

Pass Is Intercepted
A fourth-quarter pass by Lease was intercepted by Shilling on the Westminster 46 and raced back to the Allegany 25 to set up the Owls' clinching touchdown.

Three running plays gained seven yards and then Head tossed a jump pass to Ken Frock for a 16 yards to the Campers' 2. Head plunged for the score and passed to Frock for the point.

Allegany then drove the ensuing kickoff back to the Westminster 44 but lost the ball on downs just before the game ended.

The victory closed out the Owls' season with a 5-3-1 mark and gained a split for the Rubym n with Cumberland Schools. The Owls lost to Fort Hill last week, 19-0.

Grafton Hi Takes State Grid Crown

Defeats Philippi In Finale, 20-0

GRAFTON, W. Va., Nov. 9 (AP)—Quarterback Johnny Scraggs, a transfer this year from Barboursville, led Grafton today to a 20-0 victory over Philippi and the State AA high school football title.

Grafton's Bearcats thus ended their season unbeaten in 10 games, with only a scoreless tie with Shinnston last week to mar their string. Grafton, the only unbeaten AA team in West Virginia, also won the football title in 1952.

That year, the Bearcats defeated Big Creek in Park 6-0 in the Class A playoff of Warkersburg.

Scraggs scored two of the Bearcat touchdowns, on a keeper play from the 9 in the first quarter, and on a two-yard end run in the last period. Fullback Buck Garrett scored the other touchdown, plunging from the 1 in the third period. Tackle Tommy Cupett kicked the two extra points.

Philippi's Class A Bulldogs brought only a mediocre record into the game, winning five this season and losing to Morgantown University, Weston, Buckhannon and Clarksburg Notre Dame. They never got past the Grafton 20, and their most threatening drive came in the last quarter after Grafton began substituting freely.

SS. Peter And Paul Plays St. Patrick's In Final On Sunday

SS. Peter and Paul championship team will be out to make a four-game sweep when it meets St. Patrick's in the final game of the season in the Catholic Youth Football League Sunday at 2 p. m. at Maryland.

The champs hold a 33-7 decision over the "Fighting Irish" and also copped a pair from St. Mary's Gaels.

St. Patrick's (1-2) crashed the win column last Sunday by defeating St. Mary's, 12-6, and could finish the season with a .500 record by upsetting their west side rivals tomorrow.

Berrios Gets Nod

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Miguel Berrios, a fiery little bundle of energy from Puerto Rico, slashed out of three games from the Wood-Flash Elorde's left eye and raked the Philippine southpaw with his right to win a unanimous decision. Berrios won by a knockout in the 10th round tonight at Madison Square Garden. Berrios weighed 128, Elorde 129½ pounds. W. O. W.

CAIRNBROOK, Pa., Nov. 9 (AP)—LaSalle High School's Explorers from Cumberland, Md., scored touchdowns in the first and second periods tonight and turned back Shade-Central City High School by the score of 13-0.

The victory was the third in a row for the Marylanders and put them in the .500 class with a season record of four wins and four losses. Shade-Central City went down to defeat for the seventh time in 10 games.

Harris Sets Up Score

Kenneth Harris, left guard, set up the first LaSalle score when he recovered Kasnick's fumble on Shade's 12 early in the first period. Edward Mickey Bush failed to gain on the first play. A pass by Joe Cioni was incomplete and Bush moved the ball to the six. On fourth down, Van Parsons ran the remaining six yards for the six-pointer.

Midway in the second period, Kasnick punted to Parsons, who fumbled, but the alert Bush recovered for LaSalle on the Shade 48. Five plays later the Explorers had their second score of the game. Parsons reeled off 7 yards, Bush and Cioni gained four yards each and Bush picked up 12 more yards to advance the ball to Shade's 8. On the next play Bush dashed over for the touchdown and Paul Nolan kicked the extra point.

Twigg Halts Drive
The Pennsylvanians drove to the LaSalle 13 in the third period but the march was halted when Bill Twigg, LaSalle guard, recovered a Shade fumble.

The home team tried 12 plays and completed only one and was limited to 18 yards rushing in the second half. Seven of the aerials were thrown in the second half, none reached the target.

LaSalle and Shade were meeting on the gridiron for the first time since 1933 when the teams battled to a scoreless tie.

PETERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 9 (AP)—Coach William "Honey" Crites' Petersburg High Vikings registered a stunning upset in the West Virginia scholastic football ranks today by defeating Greenbank 12-7, thus knocking the school out of the state Class "B" title.

Greenbank, coached by Keny Sims, came here with an 8-1 record and suffered its first defeat of the season at the hands of the Vikings. Moorefield had battled Greenbank to a scoreless tie in the first game of the season.

Petersburg completed its first season under Crites as head coach and finished with a 7-2 record, which is believed to be the best football mark in the school's history. Crites, who served as assistant last year became head coach when Jesse Riggelman took over the coaching reins at Shepherd College.

The Vikings drove 60 yards for the game's initial score in the second period with John Frye registering a touchdown on a five-yard run.

Two fifteen-yard penalties set Petersburg back on its own five-yard line from where John Bruce, 215-pound brother of Bruce Bosley, former West Virginia University great, scored for Greenbank in the third period. Greenbank also ran the point to give the Greenies a 7-6 edge.

A battle for runner-up honors in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference is set for today in Fairmont where the Fairmont State College Falcons tangle with Dana "Horse" Lough's Potomac State College Catamounts at 2 o'clock.

These schools have met on the gridiron 18 times since 1922 and the series is all-square at eight wins each and two tie games. Last year Potomac State handed the Falcons a 13-7 licking. Today's contest will be the final of the season for both schools.

West Liberty's Hilltoppers handed the Falcons their only setback in the conference (20-7) and sewed up the 1956 title with a 5-0 record. Potomac State's lone reverse came at the hands of Jesse Riggelman's Shepherd Rams, who wound up the WVIC campaign with a 4-1 record. Shepherd, incidentally, missed out in the title race when it dropped a 2-0 decision to Fairmont in the first game of the season.

Can Tie 1950 Record
Potomac State's overall record for the current campaign is 7-1 and a victory today would enable the Loughmen to tie the mark of 8-1 set by its 1950 team. That was the year State tied West Liberty for the conference title at 4-1.

As far back as 1914 the Keyser and Fairmont schools met on the gridiron. It was Keyser Prep and Fairmont Normal School in those days but the Potomac State-Fairmont State series got under way in 1922. The schools failed to meet in football from 1943 through 1953 but when the series resumed in 1954 the Falcons won by the score of 19-13.

Cats Won Last Three
The Catamounts won their first four games of the present season from Glenville, 38-20; West Virginia Tech, 25-0; Davis & Elkins 46-6 and Salem, 33-12. Following a 26-20 loss to Shepherd, Potomac has won three in a row at the expense of Montgomery Junior College, 12-7, Concord, 34-13, and West Virginia Wesleyan, 40-0.

Indians Play Alumni
Coach Jerry Calhoun's Berkeley Springs High School Indians will play the Alumni today and windup the campaign on November 16 by meeting Romney High School at the latter place in a Potomac Valley Conference contest. The Indians have won five out of eight games played to date.

Lions At Philadelphia
West Virginia School for the Deaf lowers the curtain on its season today by engaging the Mt. Airy School for the Deaf in Philadelphia. Coach Donald Babcock's Lions will be striving for their seventh consecutive victory. The Romney eleven takes a 6-1 record to the Quaker City against a team that has won one game and lost four. Mt. Airy's only win was over the American School for the Deaf of Hartford, Conn., (19-0) which the West Virginia School also defeated to the tune of 46-6.

KEYSER, Nov. 9 — Keyser High School staged a garrison finish today to defeat Romney High School by the score of 19-7 and won the Potomac Valley Conference championship for the third consecutive year with a 5-0 record.

Held on even terms by a scrappy Pioneer eleven, Keyser pulled the game out of the fire in the final period when Billy Clevenger and "Sandy" Spotts scored touchdowns to break a 7-7 deadlock.

Keyser, thus, completed its first undefeated and untied season since 1926 by chalking up 10 victories in a row. The 1926 eleven had a 7-0 record. Today's triumph was Keyser's 15th in a row in three years in the P.V.C. and the 15th straight win for Coach Frederick "Tack" Clark's eleven since the midway point in the 1955 season. The Golden Tornado won nine and lost one last year. Clark's first undefeated and untied team was at Moorefield High School in 1942. KHS, incidentally, is the only undefeated and untied team in the area this season.

Romey Scores First

Romey gave the home team a real scare in the opening period by majoring 70 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown following the kickoff. Keyser kicked off to the Romney 25 and Holt returned to the 30. Two passes accounted for 25 yards during the Pioneer's drive, one from Jerry to Donald Hannas netting 10 yards while the other from Jerry Hannas to Paul Heavner covered 15 yards and produced the score. Gilbert Dillvers kicked the extra point to give the Hampshire Countians a 7-0 lead.

In the second period Keyser gained possession of the ball on the Romney 40. On the first play Dennis ran 25 yards before he was brought down on the 15. After Clevenger passed to Spotts on the 10, Dennis ran over from the 10 for the score. Terry Maine raced through left guard for the extra point, knotting the count at 7-7.

Following a scoreless third quarter, Keyser launched a passing attack that carried to the Romney 30. Then Clevenger hit Eddie Parish with an aerial and the play covered 29 yards to the one. On the next play Clevenger smashed over for the score that decided the battle.

Spotts Runs 45 Yards

Keyser added an insurance touchdown late in the final stanza when "Sandy" Spotts intercepted Hannas' pass and galloped 45 yards for the final six-point Pumbles kept Keyser in hot water in the early part of the game as Romney recovered on four occasions.

The game was played in cold and windy weather.

Romey, which concludes its season next week with Berkeley Springs, suffered its sixth setback against three victories.

Captures 9th Title

Keyser won its ninth P.V.C. championship since the circuit was formed in 1937. Coach Clark has had seven championship teams at Keyser and one at Moorefield.

Keyser is among several undefeated Class A teams in West Virginia and has been among the schools considered in the running for the title. The lineups:

Hal Harrison To Speak At Convocation

Outdoor Editor To Discuss Desert

KEYSER — Hal H. Harrison, noted outdoorsman, will be at Potomac State College, Monday, at 10:30 a. m., marking the second convocation of the college year, sponsored by the public exercises committee. The program, titled "Destination Desert," will consist of natural color movies of the vast and primitive expanses of the great wilderness of the western part of the United States. Mr. Harrison will speak of the many scenes in the movie.

The motion picture includes a remarkable story of the Arizona Sonora Desert museum; torrid days in the Castle Dome Mountains in search of desert bighorn sheep; the amazing story of the giant cactus forest as well as color pictures of all the important desert animals and birds.

Harrison is Outdoor Editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. He is also distributor of the nationally distributed television series, "Adventure s My Job."

Producer of many nationally known wildlife movies, he has done extensive work in magazine and calendar photography, and has written for leading magazines, including Saturday Evening Post and Collier's.

His program has been acclaimed by many colleges and universities throughout this section of the country, including West Virginia University and Fairmont State College.

State To Open New Road Stretches

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (P)—Maryland opens three new stretches of highway next Friday in Prince Georges County, two just north-east of Washington and the other in southern Prince Georges.

They include: A 2-mile relocation of Maryland 410 between Ager road and the intersection of Queens Chapel and Coleville roads.

A 3-mile dual section of Edmonston road from Upshur street to Briar Ditch.

A 4.7-mile, one-lane section of Maryland 5 from Clinton south to TB.

Gov. McKeldin will preside at the road-opening ceremonies.

Child Study Group Meets At Hill St.

FROSTBURG — The Parent-Child Study Group met at Hill Street School Wednesday at 1:15 p. m. Mrs. Betty Reidler, secretary, read the pledge and gave a report on the county workshop held at West Side School in October.

Mrs. Jeanetta McFarland, chairman of the group, then introduced Miss Mildred Willison, supervisor of elementary education, the speaker for the afternoon. Miss Willison used as her topic, "Sympathetic Approach to Children's Problems," after which she led the group in discussion.

John Manley, principal of the school, attended and suggested each member jot down a question to be used at a future meeting.

The next meeting of the group will be held the first Wednesday in January.

Student Shot While Hunting

MOOREFIELD—Carl Campbell, 16, was moved Tuesday from Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, to a hospital in Clarksburg for further treatment of injuries sustained in a hunting accident.

Campbell was hunting on Potato Row with his father and a group of hunters. He was wearing dark clothes and crouching beside the road when he was mistaken for a wild turkey and shot by Sonny Smith in the head, side and back with a shotgun loaded with number four shot.

Smith, accompanied by Robert Taylor, went hunting last Saturday morning and because of the foggy, wet weather had started to return home when the accident occurred.

Smith and Taylor took Campbell to the road and sent a passing state road truck into Moorefield for medical aid. They had started into town in a car driven by Dorsey Helmick when they met Dr. J. A. Love who rendered medical assistance. They brought Campbell back to Moorefield and he was then taken to Keyser by ambulance. His injuries were not listed as serious, except for damage to the right eye.

Benson Expected To Do Nothing

BLUFFS, Ill. Nov. 9 (P)—The weekly Bluffs Times announces on page one that its predictions as to what Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson "is going to do for the farmer can be found on pages 2 and 3 and continued on pages 6 and 7."

The pages listed are blank.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Sitting Pretty

No matter how cultured a woman may be in her conversation or how beautifully groomed she may be, if she sprawls when she sits, the picture is spoiled. It seems like such a simple point to make, yet it is always amazing to me how many women sit poorly. Just watch at the next gathering or on a streetcar.

A seemingly well-bred woman will sit with her knees apart, for instance. Doesn't she realize that it robs her of all femininity and allure? No model of charm she!

A woman should sit gracefully erect in her chair with her hands relaxed and still—her knees together and both legs perpendicular to the floor with the right heel drawn into the left instep. If she wants to cross her legs

Rev. Saphir Will Preach In Piedmont

PIEDMONT — Rev. Athilly Saphir, Christian minister from India, will speak at three events tomorrow at Trinity Methodist Church, which is concluding a week-long Sunday school missions study.

Rev. Saphir will speak at the 10:45 a. m. and 7 p. m. services, and at a luncheon for the youth group and teachers in the youth division of the church at 5 p. m. Question-and-answer periods will follow each of his talks.

Rev. Saphir grew up in the Mar Thoma Christian Church of India, which dates back to the First Century A. D. A graduate of Allahabad State University and of Mysore Bible College, he taught school for two years in India, and also preached there.

He now is a graduate student at Ashbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Ky.

Rev. L. E. Crowson, pastor, said about 100 persons have been attending the week-long study sessions.

Moorefield Girl Is Appointed To Farm Teen Board

MOOREFIELD — Miss Carole Jane Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Harper Jr., has been nominated by Miss Mildred Fizer, State 4-H Girls Club agent, and C. P. Dorsey, State 4-H leader, to serve as a member of the Farm Journal Teen Board for 1957.

Miss Harper was one of five girls nominated from West Virginia to serve as an advisor to the editors of the popular farm and home magazine, on teen-age problems. The nominations have been sent to the magazine editors who will select from the list two girls from this state to serve on the board.

Miss Harper, who is a freshman at Potomac State College, Keyser, has a long record of 4-H club work, and has been active in both county and state events. Her farm home is the center of many teen-age activities. She is active in the young peoples work of her church and school affairs.

Plans Party Series

KEYSER — Miss Margaret Rafter, chairman of the Faculty Club at Potomac State College, recently announced that, Thursday, November 15, has been selected for presenting the first of a series of club parties for the college year.

Assisting her with plans are Miss Anne E. Withers, Col. Gordon Beach, W. E. Michael, Walter Jaworek, Mrs. Ray C. Coffman and John Stanhagen.

McCoolle School Invites Guests To All Classes

Education Week Program Arranged

McCOOLE — A feature of American Education Week observance at McCoolle Elementary School, starting Monday and continuing through Saturday is an all-out effort to have all parents and friends of the school attend sometime during the week and note progress made by the classes. Class rooms will be open for visitors at any time.

On Tuesday afternoon, visitors will be escorted through the class rooms, especially for parents to see the pupils in action. Coffee or punch will be served by the cafeteria staff and sixth grade girls from 2:15 m. to 3 p. m.

There will be a meeting of the Parent-Child Study Discussion Group at 2 p. m., on Wednesday in the school auditorium.

On Thursday evening, the regular Parent-Teacher Association, with the school faculty, will present a program on the American Education Week theme: "Schools for a Strong America."

The principal, Paul E. Arbogast, and teachers, have announced they are anxious that parents attend to help their children students by showing interest in the school's efforts to build better citizens.

Lonaconing May Buy Police Car

LONACONING — Mayor Virgil Alexander and the three commissioners who were present at the recent council meeting voted to get the absent commissioner, Police and Fire Commissioner Robert M. Grove, to obtain estimates from automobile dealer's on the cost of a car to be used as a police car in Lonaconing.

Lonaconing, which hires two policemen, never has purchased a police car for their use. The car would be equipped with a two-way radio able to pick up calls dispatched by the State Police radio.

Plan Achievement Day Program

LONACONING — The Young Women's club of Lonaconing will hold "Achievement Day" program on Tuesday, November 13, at 7:45 p. m. at the VFW home, Lonaconing.

Nominations will be presented by the committee for election of vice president, recording secretary and corresponding secretary. Mrs. Ann Petry, vice president; Mrs. June Wattenscheidt, recording secretary; Mrs. Carmen Peebles, corresponding secretary; are the three out-going officers.

Members will bring their achievements of the year, which may be baked goods or handicrafts or crafts. A demonstration on button making, which includes clever designing and covering, will be presented by Mrs. Carmen Peebles.

Bruce Hi Band Visits College Park Today

WESTERNPORT — The Bruce Hi School senior band will take part in the annual Band Day program today at the University of Maryland, College Park.

The tag day conducted Tuesday in behalf of the band realized $170. It was held under the direction of Nancy Fazanbaker, president of the band. Proceeds will be used to purchase additional uniforms.

The band will give a concert Monday at the dedication of a memorial plaque in Ridgeley. It will be a highlight of a Veteran Day observance.

Thirty-eight members of the band and leaders attended the Band Day held recently on the campus of the University of Pittsburgh. The local group joined numerous other bands in presenting a half-time program at the Pitt-Oregon football game.

Lonaconing Council Postpones Vote On Bond Issue For Tach-Fast Plant

LONACONING — The Mayor and Council of Lonaconing have decided to postpone indefinitely the proposed referendum on a $70,000 bond issue for funds with which to build a new plant for the Tach-Fast Manufacturing Company, Inc.

The matter was discussed at some length by interested officials at the Monday night council meeting.

Deferment of the referendum was agreed upon until the City of Frostburg can get an opinion from the Maryland Court of Appeals as to whether a community in Maryland legally can use public money to build or purchase a structure for private use.

Some time ago the voters of Frostburg approved a bond issue for funds with which to build a new plant for the M. Berkowitz Company there. No question about the legality of the community's action was raised until Frostburg got ready to issue the bonds. Then the attorney for a prospective bond buyer questioned the legality of using public money for the advantage of a private firm.

Now Edward J. Ryan, attorney for Frostburg, is making arrangements to have some Frostburg taxpayer file a friendly suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against the City of Frostburg in order to get a legal opinion on the bond issue.

James S. Getty, attorney for Lonaconing, reported at the Monday night council meeting that Frostburg wants Lonaconing and the Maryland Municipal League to share the expense of the litigation because it will benefit all communities.

Garrett County Boy Is Killed In Accident

David L. Tichinell, 5, Crushed To Death

A five-year-old boy, who was riding in the rear seat of his father's car, was killed yesterday afternoon in an unusual accident near Swanton.

The victim, David Leon Tichinell, of RFD 1, Swanton, was pronounced dead on arrival at Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland. Death was caused by internal injuries, police said.

The lad was crushed between the door of his father's car and an embankment while the vehicle, driven by George Sheridan Tichinell, 49, was traveling north on the Rock Oak Coal Company road about two and one-half miles south of Swanton.

Maryland State Police said the lad was riding in the right rear of the car, accidentally opened the rear door. The door struck the car and crushed. He was conscious for several minutes after the accident.

He was taken to the hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Cpl. S. M. Conrad investigated the accident which occurred about 1:30 p. m.

A son of George Sheridan Tichinell and Mrs. Juanita Belle (Warnick) Tichinell, he was born near Swanton August 22, 1951.

Surviving, besides his parents, are seven brothers and sisters: Mrs. Wanda Paugh, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, all of Baltimore, and Miriam, Darrell, George, Louise and Doris Tichinell, all at home.

He attended Sunday School at Walnut Bottom Assembly of God Church.

The body is at the home. A funeral service will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the Walnut Bottom Assembly of God Church. Rev. Harry Barton, pastor, will officiate and burial will be in the nearby Turner Cemetery.

Bennett Held For Grand Jury

A 19-year-old local youth was ordered held yesterday under $2,000 bond for action of the January grand jury on a charge of raping a 13-year-old local girl here on October 14.

Bond for Robert Dale Bennett, 324 Bedford Street, was set yesterday at a preliminary hearing before Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

He was committed to Allegany County Jail in default of bond. He was arrested by city police and held under a warrant issued October 18 by Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

Bennett waived the preliminary hearing held for the purpose of setting bond after Magistrate Mason explained Bennett was not on trial, and that the only purpose of the hearing was to allow him to decide if there were sufficient evidence to warrant holding for the grand jury.

Centre St. Plans Visitation Day

Parents will be welcome to visit Centre Street School any day during American Education Week, although Wednesday has been specially designated as Visitation Day.

Frederick H. Sheeley, a visiting teacher in the pupil personnel department, will be the guest speaker at the PTA meeting Thursday night, November 15. Glen Geis, fifth grade teacher, will present vocal numbers.

Classrooms will be open for visitations from 7 to 7:25 p. m., preceding the business meeting at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium.

Parents and teachers of the sixth grade will sponsor a bake sale after the meeting. A social hour with refreshments will conclude the evening's activities. Mrs. Shober Chorpennig and Mrs. John Shober Jr. are the refreshment committee.

Heater-Planer Is on Its Way

The heater-planer is on its way. Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz announced yesterday. He said it will probably go into operation on Tuesday, since Monday will be a holiday due to the observation of Veterans Day.

Word was received that the equipment of the Universal Road Planer Corporation was on its way and should arrive here about the middle of the week. It had not turned up late yesterday afternoon.

Commissioner Buchholtz said material shaved off the streets will be needed to fill low shoulders on several streets, including Long Hill and Williams Street.

PSC Approves Boost In Gas Rates In Area

Gas rates will be increased again under an order approved unanimously yesterday by the Maryland Public Service Commission.

The order marks the third increase in gas rates in this area since 1952.

Albert L. Deen, executive secretary of the commission, said the PSC order requires the Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company to file a new schedule of rates which will boost its net income between $98,329 and $120,854 a year.

That is net, before taxes, and will require an increase in gross income of from $196,658 to $241,708.

The company has asked to increase rates enough to boost its gross income by $295,000 in order to bring in another $147,000 of net income.

Adopt Compromise

Deen said the commission stated the allowable increase would produce a return to the company of between 6 and 6 1/4 per cent.

It was noted in the commission order that the rates proposed by the company appear to place the greatest impact on the minimum user of gas. The commission said the new schedule should lessen the impact on the small user.

The company has 10 days in which to notify the commission of the acceptance of the order. The present rates went into effect in October 1954 and according to the company produced only a 4.78 per cent return on C&A's investments.

Hearings on the company's application for a rate increase ended July 12 when C&A proposed a compromise rate schedule which would shift the burden of the boost from those who use gas for cooking and heating water and cooking to those who heat homes with gas.

A brief presenting the position of the opponents of the rate increase was submitted to the commission by Cumberland and Allegany County on September 1.

Oppose Increase

The city and county, represented by Gorman E. Getty, county attorney, and Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, contended in their brief that the stockholders not the customers, should bear the loss on several items which figured in the C&A application.

While the new rate schedule may not be revealed for some time, the company's proposed schedule was predicated on the elimination of customer forfeits and penalties totaling $18,790. The city and county contended this should not be eliminated.

The commission is required by law in setting rates to give an utility a fair rate of return on its investment. This has been figured around six per cent.

The rate base is established by figuring the original cost of the company's holdings.

The city and county have the right to appeal this decision of the Public Service Commission through Circuit Court.

Meeting Postponed

A meeting of the B'er Chayim Men's Breakfast Club scheduled for tomorrow has been postponed. It will be held at a later date.

City Urged To Pasture Sheep On Levee Banks

"Get a herd of sheep" is the latest suggestion turned in at City Hall for the economical maintenance of the grass on the levees of the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project.

An alternate suggestion was to plant the sloping banks of the big earth banks with rambler roses. Grass on some portions of the levees is springing up in grand style and is about three inches high at present.

Cutting the turf is no problem this fall, since the levees have not yet been turned over to the City of Cumberland.

But when they are, the city

Staff Aide Service Corps Is Backbone Of Red Cross

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT
News Staff Writer

The backbone of any successfully operated Red Cross Chapter is perhaps the corps of volunteer women known as volunteer members of the Staff Aide Service.

Allegany County Chapter has been fortunate for more than a decade and a half in retaining a corps of able and experienced staff aides. Yesterday at Red Cross headquarters, C. M. Sanner, chapter chairman presented 15-year service pins to 11 such volunteers.

The group eligible for the service awards includes Mrs. James M. Pitkethly, Mrs. Robert Gerson, Mrs. Helen Vandegrift, Mrs. G. Morgan Smith, Mrs. Holmes Cessna, Mrs. Irving Millenson, Mrs. Arthur P. Dixon, Mrs. Lewis C. Millholland Jr., Mrs. Charles Helmrich, Mrs. Harry Beneman and Mrs. Somerville Nicholson.

These volunteers are the first line of operation assisting the full time and paid workers. According to American National Red Cross statistics, there are 16,000 paid workers in the organization, and 1,650,000 volunteers. Of these volunteers possibly 200,000 or more are staff aides.

As early as 1917, there was recognition that volunteer office workers could make a contribution to Red Cross chapter activities. One of the first such groups to undertake this phase of operation was called the "Office and Clerical Corps." In 1920 national headquarters made provision for clerical service and included in the statement on duties the work that members could do in connection with fund raising and in emergencies.

Their activities were further extended, and in 1925, the name was changed to Staff Assistance Corps to cover a still broader field of work. That year, a manual described a 19-lesson course designed to give them a general knowledge of the organization.

About 1941, the study and training course was streamlined into 10 hours of lectures on Red Cross organization and services and 10 hours of lectures and practice in office routine.

The Staff Aide Service program in any community is determined after an evaluation of the needs of both chapter and community. Here, staff aides can be assigned for bookkeeping, filing, mail distribution and mimeographing during fund campaigns; staff information and reception desks; can do stenographic work as needed; help operate the Blood Donor Center; recently aided the surplus foods program; and they do countless other chores requiring special skills.

Staff Aides may be assigned, in accordance with established needs, to chapter management, to committees and services in the chapter, and to field directors in hospitals, camps and stations during emergencies. They may also work in civilian hospitals and welfare agencies and clinics, if formally requested.

Some of them keep history and publicity scrapbooks telling the full story of local Red Cross activity. Some help catalogue and index chapter records and supplies.

Westvaco Asks For Road To Housing Project

The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company yesterday asked the Allegany County Board of Commissioners for county assistance in connection with a housing development initiated by the Luke mill at Westport.

John A. Luke, mill manager, Walter McVicar, assistant manager-administration, and George Failing, manager of the housing project, requested the county to construct an access road as well as a roadway in the housing development, located on a 235-acre tract on Horse Rock Hill near the Bruce High School.

Mr. Luke said the Westvaco firm initiated the housing development as a non-profit project, not only to help attract various technical personnel to positions with the firm in connection with a $50,000,000 expansion plan starting next June, but also because it is required for the future growth of the community. He explained that the Tri-Towns area of Westport, Piedmont and Luke has neither the quantity nor quality of housing for the growth that is anticipated, and added that the housing development will not be limited to mill employees but will be open to anyone.

The paper company, Mr. Luke said, will spend approximately $100,000, on the housing project. It is expected that about 80 homes will be built in the development initially with an ultimate capacity of 300.

The access road would be about 2,200 feet in length and the roadway within the development would be about a mile in length. Aerial photographs of the building site as well as drawings were used to familiarize the county commissioners with the situation.

Future of the Luke mill is dependent on many factors, Mr. Luke pointed out, including an adequate water supply toward which the Savage River Dam has made a substantial contribution, as well as the best personnel available for employment.

Citing some of the benefits that will accrue to the county from the big expansion project, he listed among them the doubling of the mill's pulpwood requirements which may result in the addition of as many as 300 more pulpwood suppliers to the present 900.

In addition, it is expected that as many as 1,000 construction workers will be required for the huge plant expansion which, upon completion, is expected to boost employment at the Luke mill by about 400 new workers. Economic benefits will spread to many other businesses and services in the county.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson made a motion to agree to construct the road, but Commissioners William H. Lemmert and James Orr said they would like to have a week or 10 days to mull over the matter before deciding on a course.

Lemmert said the financing of such a project would have to be considered as well as other factors such as matching federal or state funds. Both Lemmert and Orr said they appreciated the company's efforts in expanding the Luke mill, but did not want to make a snap judgment.

Letters Cite Sewage Needs Of County

Residents Urge Planning Action

Copies of three letters concerning the bad sewage conditions in the George's Creek area were referred to the Board of County Commissioners yesterday.

One, dated November 8, was from Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, to the Mayor and City Council of Frostburg.

Dr. Frantz wrote that the Health Department is continually getting complaints about the sewage conditions in Westernport, Lonaconing and Frostburg, and other communities along George's Creek.

Should Plan Now

The county health officer added that the Frostburg Mayor and City Council should begin now to start planning how to correct some of these sewage conditions before too long. Great pressure for some action is being exerted, Dr. Frantz concluded.

Dr. Perry F. Prather, director of the State Health Department, wrote a letter dated November 1 to Francis G. Philpot, chairman of the pollution committee of the Shaft Volunteer Fire Company.

This letter acknowledged receipt of an October 24 letter from Mr. Philpot, which included a copy of a petition addressed to Governor Theodore R. McKeldin signed by 379 residents protesting the dumping of sewage into George's Creek.

Dr. Prather said he was well aware of the need of sewers and sewage treatment facilities to serve the George's Creek communities.

Funds Unavailable

However, funds apparently are not now available to finance the needed improvements. Dr. Prather suggested that steps be taken to devise an effective means of financing the improvements.

In his letter of October 24, Mr. Philpot had suggested that the federal, state and county governments share in the expense of installing a trunk sewer line from Frostburg to Westernport with a disposal plant at Westernport.

Mr. Philpot contended that the State Health Department is his "only refuge."

Road Problems Are Discussed

The Allegany County Roads Department will lay a 12-inch pipe-line in the vicinity of Church Street in Corriangville if the property owners provide the pipe. County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman reported to the Board of County Commissioners yesterday that Church Street is not a county road but added that the drainage condition is causing damage to property.

The property owners already have acquired the pipe and want the county employees to install it. Homer Propst of the Brice Hollow Road told the county commissioners that a pipe is needed under the road to carry off water. The matter was referred to Chapman.

Another drainage condition on State Route 55 also was discussed and was referred to Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board.

The commissioners also got a letter from State Senator Charles M. See informing them that the County Delegation and he will meet with the commissioners at 8 p. m. Thursday, November 29, to discuss proposed legislation.

WAF Recruiter Here Next Week

Sgt. Hrisa Kazars, Baltimore, recruiting for Women of the Air Force, will be in Cumberland next Tuesday and Wednesday to interview applicants for enlistments in the WAF.

Sgt. Kazars notified T/Sgt. Harold C. Waldrop, local Air Force recruiter, that she has appointments with several local young women who are interested in Air Force careers, but will have time to confer with four or five more if they wish to make appointments.

Sgt. Waldrop said high school graduates or girls who will graduate in June will be welcomed at the office to receive first-hand information. Appointments can be made by calling PA 2-0540, or by visiting the recruiting station, Third Floor, Post Office Building.

SRC Has Snow Fences In Place As First Flurries Of Season Appear

The first snow of the season put in its appearance early yesterday morning, but the Maryland State Roads Commission wasn't caught with its fences down.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the SRC, said last night that all the snow fences are up in Allegany County, while 90 per cent of the fences have been placed along the highways of Garrett and Washington counties.

Back to the weather situation—continued cold wintry temperatures are promised for today with cloudy skies prevailing. The weatherman said the mercury would dip to about 20 degrees

Funds Asked In Dystrophy Campaign

Have you joined the fight against muscular dystrophy? If not, you'll have the opportunity all this month.

Local organizations, spearheaded by city firemen and volunteer firemen of Allegany and Garrett counties, are now conducting a campaign to raise funds for research to combat the disease that mysteriously attacks the muscles, weakening and making them useless.

In time, the patient becomes helpless. Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker of the Cumberland Fire Department points out that the exact cause of the disease is unknown.

Who gets it? Anyone. Muscular Dystrophy is no respecter of race, nationality, age or sex. More than 200,000 Americans are afflicted, Chief Parker added, and more than two-thirds of its victims are children, although cases are known in all age groups.

The disease, which is non-contagious, is incurable. The body system, weakened by dystrophy, is prey to simple ailments.

Organized in 1950 the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America Inc., a national non-profit health association is dedicated to finding the cause, cure and treatment of muscular dystrophy and related diseases.

Chief Parker reminds residents of the two counties that must change dropped into the canisters that have been distributed will add up to dollars toward research.

Legislative Hearings Are Scheduled Here

Plans for three more hearings were announced yesterday by State Senator Charles M. See and Del. Lester B. Reed, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation.

They said the hearings will about wind up the series of meetings being held by Allegany County legislators in preparation for the 1957 General Assembly.

The legislators will meet November 28 at 8 p. m. with officials of the Western Maryland Wildlife Association.

They are scheduled to meet with the Board of Allegany County Commissioners on November 29 at 8 p. m.

A conference will be held on November 30 at 3 p. m. with the Eckhart Parent-Teacher Association.

All of the meetings will be held in the Health Department Training Center in the Union Street county building, and are open to the public.

Six other hearings have previously been scheduled by the legislators. The first are scheduled next Tuesday night to hear proposals at 7:45 p. m. for a full-time magistrate for McCoole, and at 8:15 p. m., plans for zoning LaVale.

$1,425 Awarded For Property

An Allegany County Circuit Court jury yesterday placed a value of $1,425 upon some 3.117 acres of land just north of the present U. S. Route 40 at the top of Martin Mountain.

The jury deliberated nearly an hour yesterday afternoon before reaching its verdict in the condemnation suit. Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris presided at the trial.

The State Roads Commission, which needs the land for its new four-lane highway at the top of the mountain, brought suit against Frank McFarland and Maud S. McFarland, his wife, the owners of the land. A check for $130, representing the value placed on the land by the SRC, was deposited with the clerk of court when the suit was docketed.

A second jury was taken to view another tract of land there also sought by the SRC along U. S. Route 220. Defendants are Harry E. Welsh and Elizabeth Welsh, his wife.

Trial of this condemnation suit will begin at 9:15 a. m. today with Judge Harris presiding.

Election Law Revisions Are Recommended

Del. Cook Serves On Study Group

Recommendations for the revision of Maryland's election laws were presented to the Legislative Council by a study group on which Del. Noel Speir Cook served.

The committee, headed by Sen. H. Winship Wheatley Jr., completed a study of the election laws of the state.

Major changes recommended by the committee include:

1. Setting of the date for primary elections on the third Monday in May.

2. Registration dates be changed to create uniformity between counties which have permanent registration, as does Allegany, and the temporary registration counties.

3. For permanent registration counties, the committee recommended that registration close 30 days before a primary election and 42 days before a general election.

4. That removal procedure be changed, so voters need not obtain a removal certificate from the old board and take it to a new board. Under the proposal—as used in Baltimore City—a voter would merely apply to a new board which would handle confirmation and cancellation with the former board.

5. Composition and procedure of the Central Committee for the major parties would be specified.

6. Under corrupt practices, the committee recommended a limit on campaign expenses of $10,000 for state-wide offices, senator or representative, and $2,500 for other offices.

7. Election expenses payable by candidates would not be subject to the maximum.

8. Sample copies of literature should be kept for 120 days after election.

Group Urges Plan To Cut Traffic Toll

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Maryland's Legislative Council today recommended to the General Assembly approval of 26 changes in the State's motor vehicle code aimed at reducing traffic fatalities.

The proposed changes vary from periodic re-examination of drivers and chemical test for drunken driving to issuing summonses to drivers operating at a very slow speed.

The program was prepared and presented by the council's committee on revision of motor vehicle laws, headed by Del. Silver (D-Balto 5th). Others on the committee include Del. Driscoll (R-Allegany).

Urges More Police

The report, noting that the State Police force is "woefully undermanned," urged enlargement of the present force. It noted that neighboring Delaware has a much larger proportion of troopers than Maryland. It suggested the Maryland force be increased from its present 366 to 535.

Other proposals: A state-wide conference of all trial magistrates called by the governor to discuss ways and means to promote safer driving. Licensing and regulation of private driver-training schools.

Extension of the present driver-training program in public schools. Use of reflectorized license plates.

Changes in the wording of the existing negligent homicide law to permit punishing motorists who now escape conviction due to the strict legal provision of the law.

Inspection of vehicles. The committee's report singled out Delegate Driscoll of this city, a member of the study group, for his comprehensive study of driver training in public schools.

Mandatory Course

The report had this to say about the proposal:

"This is the third proposal of the committee and reflects an amendment of the existing Maryland. The proposed legislation makes it mandatory that a course in driver training be given in the public high schools of Maryland, and provides a method of financing such training which does not involve any expenditures of current tax monies. The cost of the training program is to be paid from revenues derived from a 20 per cent penalty to be added to all fines arising from infractions of the motor vehicle laws. This, in effect makes those drivers who have been convicted of a violation of the motor vehicle laws finance the program.

"These amendments were the result of a comprehensive study made by Mr. Driscoll, a member
